A photograph of an administrative hallway. On the left, there are several glass-walled offices. One office in the foreground contains a metal cart with a white bucket, a yellow folder, and other supplies. The hallway continues into the distance, where a blue trash bin is visible. On the right wall, there is a whiteboard and a black bulletin board with several papers pinned to it. The ceiling has recessed lighting and a circular light fixture. The floor is a light-colored carpet.
